Mrs. Sherwin-Local Notice.

WAR MEETING IN BEDFORD .- Saturday at 5 P. M. there will be a war meeting hold in | We entered Alexandria on the 27th of June.

Hon. A. G. Riddle, Senator Robison, Chaplain Jones of the 42d regiment, and other breezy locality we had pitched our camp .distinguished gentlemen, will address the All the surrounding towns are expected to pleasant appearance, for which we had formattend.

103d Regiment-Great Inducements to Volunteers.

The men who are interested in getting up the 103d regiment show a proper energy and determination, and the various recruiting officers for the regiment report cheering progress. The regimental officers can point with pride to the laurels they have already won in the field, which are an earnest of what their conduct will be in the future. The man whose coolness and courage at Cross Lancs saved a large share of the 7th Regiment when surprised and surrounded by overpowering numbers, and whose dashing bravery at Winchester won the admiration of all. is one under whom young men should feel proud to enlist. Col. Casement will never send his men where he would not dare to lead, and while brave as a lion, he possesse that coolness of judgment which characterizes the competent commander, who realizes the responsibilities of his position. Lieutenant Colonel Sterling is a young man whose career has been a subject of pride to a host of devoted friends in Cleveland. He was among the first to obey his country's call "to arms," was soon made Captain of his company in the 7th, and has been with his regiment through all its varying fortunes, winning faurols that will never fade.

Major Howard was Captain of Company K, 23d Regiment, in Western Virginia, and proved his bravery and efficiency on more than one occusion.

In connection with the above, we may say that the company officers that are appointed are regarded as men eminently qualified for their respective positions.

There is considerable friendly strife beween the various parties recruiting in this city for the 103d with regard to obtaining the greatest number of recruits. Captain W.
